

Our goal is to build a long-term relationship with our clients based on mutual trust and clear communication, as well as provide you with expert tax and accounting services. Therefore, we do our best to provide you with transparent pricing.

Our tax preparation services are priced based on a number of factors including the forms and schedules required to comply with federal & state law. Pricing is also based on the complexity of your tax situation, the time required to complete your returns, and your ability to provide us with the required information in a reasonable period of time. The quality of your records can also drastically affect your pricing. Taking the time to organize and add your receipts can reduce the cost of your return. Plus, we will often discount certain returns for returning clients, volume of work, children's taxes (with parent prep) and other variables.

All Clients are required to sign an engagement letter. This letter outlines our professional relationship, the terms and conditions under which we will provide services, and it outlines the responsibilities of each of us. Your engagement letter will provide a more precise quote of your individual services.
